COMMENTS: He had the Coronavirus in March and April, 2020. He was out of business in his law practice as well as shut down his campaign. He was hospitalized in April in connection with this disease. Although discharged from the hospital in early April his physical recovery was not complete for many more weeks. He was unable to work because of not only his recuperation but also his clients or the court's suspension of activities. Then the Governor suspended the April 4th election date until July 11, 2020, resulting changes in campaign finance filing dates. His campaign died and never recovered. He was not able to raise any significant money because in a small race for a town council there is not that much money to go around and the Coronavirus was in full swing. His mistake, resulting from a confluence of pressures, most beyond his control.

Dear Sirs:

I received your certified January 12, 2021 letter (No. 70200090000073035707) on January 19, 2021 in which you informed me that you declined to waive $320. fine for the late filing of my 30p report on December 31, 2019. I request a waiver for the following reasons:

Like many Americans, when I was struck with the Coronavirus in March and April, 2020 I was not only seriously ill, but I was out of business in my law practice as well as shut down my campaign. I was hospitalized in April in connection with this disease. Although I was discharged from the hospital in early April my physical recovery was not complete for many more weeks. I was unable to work because of not only my recuperation but also my clients or the court's suspension of activities. Then the Governor suspended the April 4th election date until July 11, 2020, a period of almost 10 weeks with resulting changes in campaign finance filing dates. I am sure that this caused confusion even for experienced campaigns with staffs.

My campaign died and never recovered. Fortunately I did recover. However, I was not able to raise any significant money because in a small race for a town council there is not that much money to go around and the Coronavirus was in full swing. My campaign was basically me. Unfortunately, even though I may have wanted to, the public was not receptive to people knocking on their doors to chat about an election with an airborne infectious disease in the community. I lost my election by 77 votes out of 5,701 cast.

My mistake was just that, a mistake, resulting from a confluence of pressures, most beyond my control. This has been an extraordinary year for everyone. I ask that the Board consider these pressures in reconsidering the waiver of the $320. late fee imposed on me.

Sincerely,

Ernest A. Burguières
